

Wine, Food Summit is April 23

If you have a passion for great wine and wonderful food, you'll want to attend the first Buffalo Gap Wine & Food Summit. The event is slated for Saturday, April 23, at the famed Perini Ranch Steakhouse just one mile west of Buffalo Gap, Texas, on FM 89.

It will be an unforgettable event offering food and wine enthusiasts a rare opportunity to meet both Texas and California winemakers and well-known Texas chefs.

Six noted wineries already are con-

Key Points

- A first-class wine and culinary event will be held April 23 at Buffalo Gap, Texas.
- Representatives of top wineries and noted chefs will gather at Perini Ranch.
- An outdoor dinner and dance is slated at the peak of the Gap Wine & Food Summit.

firmed for the event. Wineries include Becker Vineyards from Stonewall, Texas, and also Fess Parker Winery & Vineyards from Los Olivos, Calif.

Two educational seminars will be held during the big day. Participants will learn the basics of pairing wine with food at an Umami (oo-MOM-ee) seminar hosted by Tiffany Collins from the Texas Beef Council.

"Umami" is derived from "umai," the Japanese word for "delicious." Later in the afternoon, participants will enjoy learning the similarities and differences in regional wines at the "Texas/California Taste-off."
